KRCB in the news

February 17th Digital Transition

As of Tuesday, February 17th, all full power television stations in the U.S. must be broadcasting by digital transmission. This means that except in a very few cases, all current (analog) transmitters will be turned off on or before that day. How will this affect you as a viewer and member of KRCB, Channel 22? The short answer is, for the most part, not at all. Since we know that most of you do not receive our over-the-air signals, but use cable or satellite, there will be almost no change. If you watch us on Comcast Cable, AT&T U-verse, Dish or DirecTV satellite services you should notice no change or interruption in KRCB programming. Those services will continue to re-transmit our KRCB 22 as before. If you do notice any change in your reception of KRCB after February 17th, please notify those services directly.

If you are receiving KRCB with an over-the-air antenna, either indoor or rooftop, you will no longer receive us unless you have purchased and correctly installed a digital-analog converter box or a new TV with a digital tuner. Additional information on purchasing proper digital equipment is available at www.krcb.org/Digital-Conversion, or by calling 1-888-DTV-2009 (388-2009). You may also need to install a better UHF antenna. If your over-the-air-antenna is of the directional type, it should be pointing toward Sonoma Mountain for best reception of KRCB.

While those of you watching on cable or satellite will notice no change in our programming for the time being, if you watch KRCB over-the-air, you will have access to three new digital services:

KRCB-DT-22-1 is our primary channel with all of the great national and local programming you see listed each month here in Open Air. Some of it will now be in High Definition.

KRCB-DT-22-2 will continue to bring you The Create Channel, the 24-hour TV channel for cooking, arts & crafts, gardening, home improvement, and travel. More information on this exciting "how-to" program service is available at www.createtv.com

KRCB-DT-22-3 will bring you the programming of our sister radio station, KRCB-FM-91. More information on those programs is right here in Open Air.

Dear Member,

As you are no doubt aware, this is an historic month in the history of television. And a scary one, from the point of view of television broadcasters such as KRCB, Channel 22. Under the rules promulgated by the FCC all broadcasters must return the analog broadcast license under which we have all be operating for decades, and broadcast only under our new digital license.

First, let me say that if there is anything we can do to help you sort out what you might need to do to continue to receive KRCB, please don't hesitate to call. Also, online at krcb.org, there is a fairly detailed description covering the most common conversion issues. Hopefully those instructions are clear and useful.

Our engineering staff has performed miracles in preparing for this transition at our end. The antenna and new transmitter are in place and working, and the critical work to upgrade the studios will be finished any moment now. We are in position to comply with the FCC directive and to continue to serve you with important local, regional, and national content you can trust. And that will be true no matter how you receive KRCB.

There is currently no mandate to convert KRCB FM to digital, but we have applied for and received a grant which will allow us to broadcast KRCB Radio's great content in both analog and digital, so you can use whichever you chose. And of course, we stream FM at krcb.org

Wherever and however you chose to watch and listen, KRCB will strive to be there with the highest quality content.

Sincerely,

Tess of the D'urbervilles - Part One

A poor but proud young woman falls prey to a very wicked man and a very good one in this latter-day Greek tragedy, set in England's West Country in the late 1800s. Gemma Arterton (Quantum of Solace) stars as Tess, joined by Hans Matheson (Dr. Zhivago) as her seducer, Alec, and Eddie Redmayne (Elizabeth: The Golden Age) as Angel, the idealistic and self-deceiving man she loves. In Part One, Tess Durbeyfield learns that she is descended from the aristocratic D'Urbervilles and seeks employment with claimants to their name. Fleeing Alec, the family's dissolute son, she falls in love with Angel, an idealistic farmer. Sunday, February 1 at 9:30 PM

Tess of the D'urbervilles - Part Two

In Part Two, a dark secret intrudes on Tess and Angel's wedding night, driving them apart—each in a separate struggle for survival. Love brings them back together, but not before Alec has re-entered Tess's life. Sunday, February 8 at 9:30 PM

Wuthering Heights - Part One

A man without a past pursues his childhood soulmate and seeks vengeance against her family in Emily Bronte's tragic, supernatural love story set on the English moors. Tom Hardy (Oliver Twist) stars as Heathcliff, the mysterious gypsy adopted as a boy by the Earnshaws, and Charlotte Riley is Cathy, his stepsister and the love of his life. In Part One, the fiery Heathcliff grows to manhood with the Earnshaw family of Wuthering Heights, tormented by his stepbrother, Hindley (Burn Gorman, Bleak House), and falling in love with his stepsister, Cathy. But he has a rival for Cathy's heart. Sunday, February 15 at 9 PM

Wuthering Heights - Part Two

Heathcliff returns to Wuthering Heights as a rich man after a long and mysterious absence. Still pained by his love for Cathy, he sets to work wreaking revenge on two generations of those who wronged him. Sunday, February 22 at 9 PM

KRCB honors National African-American History Month

Highwaymen: Legends of the Road

This new documentary tells the story of a unique art world phenomenon that took root in the mid-20th century in the Jim Crow South. The Highwaymen were an unlikely group of black landscape painters who emerged from the American South in the 1950s and 1960s. Segregation locked them out of selling their works in white owned art galleries, the artists took to the road to sell their paintings. Wednesday, February 11 at 8 PM

Dance Party: The Teenarama Story

Narrated by Motown recording artist Martha Reeves of Martha and The Vandellas, Dance Party: The Teenarama Story examines television's teen-dance phenomenon of the 1950s and 1960s. During this time, African-American teens often were excluded or given "separate but unequal" treatment by shows like American Bandstand. That all changed in 1963 when a small television station in Washington, DC, launched a dance program geared specifically to black teenagers. Wednesday, February 11 at 9 PM

Frontline: The Old Man and the Storm

Six months after Hurricane Katrina slammed into New Orleans, producer June Cross came across 82-year-old Herbert Gettridge working alone on his home in the lower Ninth Ward, a neighborhood devastated when the levees broke in August, 2005. Over the next two years, Cross would document the story of the extended Gettridge clan—an African-American family with deep roots in New Orleans—as they struggled to rebuild their homes and their lives. Thursday, February 12 at 9 PM

Colorblind

In Colorblind, a group of former grade-school classmates reunite and discover the profound impact their beloved African-American teacher, Mr. Bell, had on each of their lives. Escalating violence in Detroit eventually scattered Mr. Bell's class, sending many families into the suburbs and separating the third-grade class for 35 years. Colorblind captures the emotional reunion of the classmates—now in their mid-40s—as they reflect upon the turbulent Civil Rights era and the humble man whose timeless lessons of love and nonviolence touched their hearts and minds and shaped their young spirits. Tuesday, February 17 at 9 PM

Ripple in the Water: Healing Through Art

Shot on location throughout South Africa and narrated by Charlayne Hunter-Gault, the award-winning documentary Ripple in the Water: Healing Through Art focuses on the inspiring work of artist/activist Kim Berman. She mobilizes people facing great adversity to use papermaking, printmaking, and embroidery to address HIV/AIDS, poverty alleviation, and the empowerment of women and children across South Africa.

Wednesday, February 18 at 8 PM

Crossing the Line: Multiracial Comedians

The timeliness of multiracial comedians' roles as cross-racial mediators is underscored as they provide insight into controversies over how comedians express race (i.e., Michael Richards' use of the N-word, Rosie O' Donnell's slurs), and other debated meanings of race in an increasingly diverse society. Exploring these questions exposes the very nature of where pain and laughter come from in a racially divided world. Wednesday, February 18 at 9 PM

P.O.V. The Boys of Baraka

African-American boys have a very high chance of being incarcerated or killed before they reach adulthood. In Baltimore, one of the country's most poverty-stricken cities for inner-city residents, the Baraka School project was founded to break the cycle of violence through an innovative education program that literally removed young boys from low-performing public schools and unstable home environments. The Boys of Baraka follows four boys as they travel with their classmates to rural Kenya in East Africa, where a teacher-student ratio of one to five, a strict disciplinary program, and a comprehensive curriculum form the core of an extraordinary new journey in their transformation to men. Sunday, February 22 at 10 PM

Reinventing Health Care: A Fred Friendly Seminar

The program, produced by Fred Friendly Seminars of Columbia University, focuses on health policy reform in relation to the 2008 presidential election campaign. The panelists were carefully selected to offer a wide range of viewpoints from different perspectives and industries. Besides Dr. Daniel Jones, vice chancellor of UM Medical Center, participants include Bill Novelli, CEO of the American Association of Retired Persons; T. R. Reid, Washington Post journalist; David Walker, CEO of the Peter G. Peterson Foundation and former U.S. Comptroller General; Regina Herzlinger, professor of business administration, Harvard Business School; and Dave Ratner, a small business owner. Fred Friendly Seminars brings together remarkable groups of panelists and involves them in hypothetical scenarios spun by masterful moderators. The results reveal the complexity of the issues with greater depth and drama than a standard debate. Hosted by Arthur Miller. Sunday, February 15 at 10:30 PM

Telling the Truth:
The Best In Broadcast Journalism

Go behind the scenes with the year's best reporters and ABC News Correspondent Bob Woodruff, the host of Telling the Truth: The Best in Broadcast Journalism. Woodruff gets the inside story on award-winning reporting in interviews with the 2009 winners of the Alfred I. duPont-Columbia University Awards in television and radio journalism. Learn how reporters and producers uncover injustice, outsmart a blizzard of spin, and, in some cases, put their lives on the line to bring the most important stories to light. Tuesday, February 3 at 9 PM

Questioning the Constitution

For more than 200 years, the United States Constitution, a document dictating a representative government by the people and for the people, has served as the foundation for the country and its citizens. Questioning The Constitution reveals the development and structure of the Constitution, its various interpretations and the debate surrounding its possible reformation. Interviews with prominent politicians, constitutional scholars, and leaders from the NAACP and ACLU, combine with archival materials to create an understanding of the Constitution's past, present, and future. The documentary explores the Electoral College, the lack of a "no-confidence" clause, the "tyranny" of the minority states in the Senate, the difficulty in amending the Constitution, post-9/11 legislation, and the expansion and potential misuse of Executive power. The program also addresses some of the compromises and problematic aspects of the Constitution, including its stance on equal opportunity for women and civil rights for racial and ethnic minorities. Tuesday, February 24 at 9 PM

Make

A Do It Yourself Network (DIY) series for a new generation. The series celebrates "Makers"—the inventors, artists, geeks, and everyday folks who mix new and old technology to create new-fangled marvels. Based on the popular Makemagazine, each half-hour episode inspires viewers to invent, revert, recycle, upcycle, and act up. Fridays at 9 PM

Jammin at Hippie Jack's

Jammin at Hippie Jack's mission is to preserve traditional Americana Roots music from original singer/songwriters and to expose current viewers and future generations to a genre of insider musicians not readily available through pop culture.

Second Opinion returns

In this series, a panel of medical professionals and lay people engage in honest, in-depth discussions about life-changing medical decisions. The goal of the series is to increase health literacy and empower viewers to take charge of their own healthcare, and in turn, help them navigate the medical system for better health outcomes.

Begins Monday, February 16 at 11:30 AM.

Art of Aging

A new generation of maturing adults has a chance to learn from poor health practices of the past. Obesity, lack of exercise, and mental stagnation have been some of the culprits of unhealthy aging in the recent past.

Now, new research promises more effective strategies for aging well. The role of physical activity, maintaining strong bones, and engaging in social and intellectual interactions top the to-do list for upcoming generations. Hosted by Ron Reagan. Begins Friday, February 20 at 10:30 AM.

Africa Trek

In Africa Trek, husband and wife travelers Alexandre and Sonia Poussin undertake an extraordinary and unusual journey on foot—from Cape Town to Jerusalem—to rediscover a land few know and even fewer understand. More than a travel adventure, this 12-part series captures Alex and Sonia's exhausting physical and emotional crossing over three years, 10 countries and 8,600 miles. Their weary but determined voices reveal a journey filled with difficulties, pitfalls, joys, pains, and unexpected encounters. But along the way, they also discover an incredibly generous Africa, rich with heart, humor, and life. Hundreds of families welcome them into their lives for anywhere from a few hours to several days.

Begins Thursday, February 26 at 11 AM.

Natural Heroes returns

Natural Heroes is KRCB's multiple Emmy® award-winning series of independently produced films that share a common theme: people who are actively making a positive difference for our environment.

Films featured in the series focus on a variety of inspirational stories: how our lives and coffee growers' are connected, a biography of Edward Abbey, The Thoreau of the American West, earth-educators introducing urban kids to worms and dirt, and even celebrity activists like Joan Baez and Daryl Hannah.

Instead of a doom and gloom approach, Natural Heroes inspires optimism and involvement. The heroes showcased in the series epitomize the notion that one person really can make a difference. The series is a perfect example of KRCB's mission of Telling Our Stories — Connecting Our Communities. Don't miss it!

Saint Paul Sundays in February

February 1 – Wondrous Free

Renowned baritone Thomas Hampson tells America's stories in song, bringing them to life through masterly performances and a passionate sense of their importance to our national soul. Alongside more familiar favorites by Foster, Copland, Barber, and Ives, we also hear the fourth song in Stephen Paulus's Heartland Portrait.

Thomas Hampson

February 8 – Missionaries

Violinist Jorja Fleezanis and pianist Karl Paulnack, missionaries of contemporary sound, have made it their calling to engage and enlighten audiences with rarely performed 20th and 21st century works. Listen for sonatas by Peter Mennin and Ernst Bloch as well as one of Alban Berg's hauntingly beautiful Seven Early Songs.

Beaux Arts Trio

February 15 – Dream Team

If chamber music had a "dream team," OPUS ONE would be it. Four extraordinary instrumentalists and friends, representing the Chamber Music Society of Lincoln Center, Tashi, the Beaux Arts Trio, and the Orion and Guarneri String Quartets, perform piano quartets by Mozart and Dvorák.

February 22 – A to Z

Cellist Zuill Bailey and pianist Awadagin Pratt, fast friends since they first met off hours in a ping pong duel when they were teenaged participants in a music festival, frequently collaborate on the great works of their shared repertoire. Today they'll bring us sonatas by Debussy, Beethoven, and Brahms.

Sundays at 11 AM

Awadagin Pratt

Wordless Music

February 10 – Hauschka/Beirut/Fifth Veil

German pianist/composer Volker Bertelmann (a.k.a. "Hauschka") plays the prepared piano; indie rock band Beirut performs their own gypsy-inspired set, and Bard College Quartet Fifth Veil performs Osvaldo Golijov's The Dreams and Prayers of Isaac the Blind.

February 17– Lubman and the Wordless Music Orchestra/ Torngat

Conductor Brad Lubman leads the Wordless Music Orchestra in John Adams' Christian Zeal and Activity; Montreal band Torngat, perform their own set, and the Wordless Music Orchestra returns for Gavin Bryar's The Sinking of the Titanic.

Life after the hurricanes on this year's Homelessness Marathon

The 12th Annual Homelessness Marathon will originate from Pass Christian, Mississippi, just a few miles from “the other Ground Zero,” where Hurricane Katrina came ashore. KRCCB will join the broadcast for eight hours, beginning at 10 PM on Monday, February 23.

Contrary to the claims of politicians that post-Katrina (and Rita, Gustav, and Ike) reconstruction has gone well, it has actually been a disaster unto itself. Thousands of destitute elderly and disabled Katrina survivors in Mississippi, along with poor single parents and their children, may soon be put out on the streets as their temporary housing is taken away.

The situation in Alabama is worse as people who have worked all their lives are losing everything. “One gentleman told me that what happened after Katrina is a ‘premonition’ of what will happen to the rest of the country after the current economic tsunami rolls through,” comments Jeremy Weir Alderson, the Homelessness Marathon’s founder.

More information about the Homelessness Marathon, including broadcast schedules and sound clips from past broadcasts, can be found at: <http://www.homelessnessmarathon.org>.

Monday, February 23, 10 PM through 6 AM Tuesday morning

RadioLab returns to Thursdays at 7 PM

A new season of RadioLab debuts this month, with multi-layered audio explorations of odd questions and arcane corners of the world we inhabit.

February 12 – Race

At the turn of the millennium, researchers succeeded in sequencing the entirety of the human genome. But as scientists continue to parse the genome into smaller fragments, it turns out that race, or rather ancestry, may have a genetic signature. We visit a lab where machines hiss and thump as they map out the identity of a single human. We migrate with our ancestors across geographic and cultural boundaries, and wind up in the lunchroom of one of the country’s most diverse middle schools to talk about the rainbow of hyphenated ethnic distinctions in teenage life.

February 19 – Diagnosis

Diagnosis comes with a tangled entourage of emotional, social, and medical implications for patient and diagnostician alike. We ride along on the subways and streets of NYC with a young man who’s been keeping his mental disorder a secret from his family. And we lose ourselves in a historical mystery racing to find our way back from a wrong turn that led to the fatal radiation treatment of healthy babies.

February 26 – Yellowfluff, Rocket Lizards & Other Curious Encounters

In this episode of RadioLab we hear from scientists about their passionate and sometimes fraught relationships with science. Geneticist Jerry Coyne describes the sense of wonder he felt when faced with his own personal parasite. And we go on location with an Arctic research expedition in search of three-eyed tube worms, only to find ourselves holding nothing but yellow fluff. Yellow fluff? An hour of scientific questions with no answers at the back of the book.

Short But Sweet February in the Loft

February may be the shortest month, but The Choir Loft still manages to squeeze in four mellifluous programs. Tune in every Sunday morning at 10 for the best in vocal music.

February 1 – American Choral Music

Celebrate the inauguration of our new president with music by Aaron Copland and other American greats. Hosted by Bob Worth.

February 8 – Missa Queramus cum Pastoribus

A wonderful mass by the 16th century Spanish composer Cristóbal de Morales. Hosted by Steve Osborn.

February 15 – Wondrous Love

Sacred and secular songs of love. Hosted by Jenny Bent.

February 22 – Ralph Vaughan Williams

This 20th century English composer had a particular empathy for the human voice. Hosted by Dan Solter.

Aaron Copland

Outbeat celebrates Black History Month

February 1 – Transgender Youth: Journey into Change. Living Proof hosts Dianna Grayer and Sheridan Gold discuss this life-changing transition.

February 8 – Shout Outbeat! Suzi LeBaron and Shelley Berman host iconic African-American folk vocalist Melanie DeMore as she shares her rich musical traditions, perspectives, and personal anecdotes. Enjoy an extended interview with this unique, rich and deep-voiced LGBTI musical artist.

February 15 – Outbeat in the Field: Issues of Color. What do queers of color expect from the Obama administration? What do local African American and Hispanic religious leaders think about gay marriage? Shelley Berman and her microphone seek answers to a cascade of questions.

February 22 – Celebrate musicians of African descent including American artists Earl Thomas, Ruthie Foster, Tim'm, and Adodi Muse (from their release Ain't Got Sense Enuf to be Shamed) along with Buika, a proud and outspoken bisexual musical wonder from Spain. Co-hosted by Rane Richardson and Shelley Berman.

Sundays at 8 PM

Adodi Muse

Fauna on Flashback

Yes, Groundhog's Day is about as minor as holidays get, but it is nonetheless the only date on the calendar set aside specifically to honor an animal. But there being an inexplicable shortage of songs about the prophetic subterranean rodent, this month's Flashback program will take a broader view, featuring songs about all manner of animals, with such notable contributors as The Byrds, Youngbloods, Who, Randy Newman, The Beatles, and Jefferson Starship. Among others.

Tuesday, February 3 at 7 PM

Historic conversation on WordTemple

In celebration of the first African American President of the United States, Katherine Hastings plays a 1961 recording of a panel discussion on sit-ins between James Baldwin, Malcolm X, and LaVerne McCummings. Some of what you hear will sound dated, some will strike you as relevant to our times. The words of Malcolm X and Martin Luther King, Jr. were key components of the Civil Rights movements of the 1960s; the words of Baldwin were—and are still—significant to the human rights movement. (“It is a terrible, an inexorable law that one cannot deny the humanity of another without diminishing one’s own.” James Baldwin.) Just one striking moment in the panel discussion you will hear is Baldwin’s insistence on a redefinition of manhood in which the model of the warrior is discarded. Football players, he says, are not men. Wednesday, February 4, at 7 PM

The legacy of Martin Luther King

In a one-hour special, The Promised Land: Different Takes on the Legacy of Martin Luther King, activist, environmentalist and humanitarian Majora Carter gauges the reach of King’s influence. How far have we come? What has been his impact on our kids? On our communities?

You’ll meet a minister who suggests that King’s legacy holds no meaning for today’s children, and a composer whose newly commissioned work The Homecoming: In Memoriam Martin Luther King had its premier last September, sung by the San Francisco-based chorus Chanticleer. Paul Mooney, whose pen is behind many of the top African-American comedians, will help sort out how humor fits into discussions of King.

Current voices in civil rights will also weigh in. Author and activist Dr. Vincent Harding recalls his association with Dr. King. Dolores Huerta talks about continuing the efforts begun by César Chávez and what it was like to work and live in his shadow. And you’re introduced to Judy Bonds, a rural white woman fighting mountaintop mining and land desecration in her community. There was a time when she’d never heard of King, yet her battle echoes his in surprising and unexpected ways.

And what’s in a name? What if yours is Martin Luther King? Majora finds out by calling people from the Atlanta phone book. Thursday, Feb. 5 at 7 PM

February E-town: Eclectic Music, Important Conversations

February 2 – Citizen Cope / Drew Emmitt

Citizen Cope (aka Clarence Greenwood) takes the E-town stage with his solo- and trio-performed original songs. Singer/songwriter/bluegrass Drew Emmitt also shares some of his new tunes. Nick Forster interviews Rothbury Think-Tank participants Michel Gelobter and David Gershon.

February 9 – Dar Williams / Spoon

New England singer-songwriter Dar Williams demonstrates why she is an E-town favorite in her set this week. Sharing the bill are indie rockers Spoon, the Austin, Texas, band. Also visiting E-town is author and journalist Harvey Wasserman, who discusses current events and his take on alternative energy.

February 16 – Shawn Mullins / Puerto Plata

In this encore airing, Grammy-nominated singer and songwriter Shawn Mullins offers a great live performance. Then living legend Puerto Plata (aka José Manuel Cobles), an 85-year-old Dominican singer and songwriter, introduces us to an acoustic style rarely heard outside of his native country. Finally, former U.S. weapons inspector Scott Ritter shares some compelling opinions and insights.

February 23 – Flobots / Matthew Caws

Joining us at Colorado College's Armstrong Hall in Colorado Springs are two first-time E-town guests, Flobots and Nada Surf's front man, Matthew Caws. Flobots are a progressive hip-hop collective from Denver, while singer and guitarist Matthew Caws brings us his solo versions of Nada Surf's poppy, thinking-person's indie-rock songs.

You and KRCB, one Smart Card...

Did you know that as a member of KRCB Radio you are entitled to a KRCB Membership Smart Card? The KRCB Smart Card is your opportunity to partner with local, North Bay businesses that also support KRCB FM Radio 91. When you use the card at one of these merchants, they will make a donation to KRCB based on a percentage of your purchase. What could be better? You support your local merchants and KRCB FM at the same time and it doesn't cost you a penny!

So take advantage of this great opportunity to maximize your support of KRCB. Get your very own KRCB Membership Smart Card.

Call our membership department at 707-584-2018 for details and listen to KRCB FM Radio 91 at 91.1 or 90.9 on the FM dial or on line at krcb.org. Supporting KRCB is the Smart thing to do...

KRCB Volunteer of the Month

Steve Morrow has been an auction volunteer since 2007, first employing his diverse skills at the Spring Auction, and the rest is history. Always willing to do whatever he is asked to, Steve has most likely served in all auction volunteer jobs. From taking excellent photos of the volunteers during the on-air events, to “warehouse”, to “display”, to picking up dinners for the auction volunteers, Steve always has a “yes, we can” attitude and unmatched sense of humor. Most notably, Steve has served as our auction “talent coordinator”, encouraging, coaching and advising auctioneers and hosts during the televised auctions.

We are also most grateful to Steve for being our always reliable “go-getter”, traveling near and far to wineries and other businesses to pick up auction items. Steve has been the “face of KRCB” to many! We are very appreciative of the many volunteer hours he has put in on behalf of KRCB and love having him be an integral part of the KRCB family!

For information on becoming one of KRCB's volunteers call Cheryl Scholar at 707-584-2005.

1 SUNDAY

- 7:00 Antiques Roadshow: Palm Springs, CA - Hour One
- 8:00 American Experience: Grand Central On the morning of January 8, 1902, a south-bound commuter train traveling through a smoky, congested tunnel in New York City's Grand Central Depot slammed into the rear of another train, instantly killing 17 people, and injuring 38. A self-taught engineer's innovative response to that crisis ultimately gave birth to one of America's greatest architectural and technological monuments—Grand Central Terminal.
- 9:00 Get Ready for Digital TV Famous do-it-yourselfers Norm Abram and Kevin O'Connor of This Old House offer digital television how-to guidance and tips to ensure that viewers across America are prepared to successfully make the switch to digital television in their homes before the analog shutoff in February, 2009. Maria Hinojosa of NOW on PBS will share the latest DTV news from the field.

Justice for Bhopal is a glimpse into the courage and tenacity of exceptional citizens of the world.

- 8:00 NOVA: Arctic Passage: Prisoners of the Ice NOVA probes the Arctic's most enduring exploration enigma. In 1845, two Royal Navy ships and 129 men led by Sir John Franklin set sail from London on an elaborately prepared expedition to conquer the elusive Arctic route and were never heard from again. Poignant clues suggest the expedition became icebound, short of food, and that the stronger members resorted to murder and cannibalism. Or did their own provisions poison them? Now, 150 years later, a team of historians and forensic scientists journeys to a bleak wilderness on a quest for the truth behind the Franklin mystery.

9:00 Lincoln: Prelude to the Presidency To commemorate Abraham Lincoln's 200th birthday in 2009, a new documentary immerses viewers in a critical, but often overlooked, time in the statesman's life. Lincoln:

Prelude to the Presidency pieces together a critical 23-year period (1837-1860) through interviews with noted historians, researchers, and experts, and re-enactments filmed at historic sites in central Illinois. Prominent scholars Doris Kearns Goodwin and Orville Vernon Burton (The Age of Lincoln) describe how Lincoln's formative experiences as a young lawyer on Illinois' Eighth Judicial Circuit informed his views on the issues he would eventually face as president, including several cases involving slavery.

At the request of anthropologist Franz Boas, he brought with him five polar Eskimos for study at the American Museum of Natural History. The embryonic science of anthropology regarded the Eskimos as a rare species, and their arrival in New York caused a sensation. Within months, however, four of the Eskimos had fallen sick and died, leaving a seven-year-old boy named Minik to fend for himself in a foreign land.

7:00 Out of Ireland
 7:30 Natural Heroes: East and West Winnemem War Dance: A proposal to raise the height of Shasta Dam near Redding, CA, threatens to flood Winnemem Wintu sacred sites on the McCloud River. The Winnemem responded with a four-day war dance to unite the people spiritually in their struggle for sovereignty and religious freedom, and their efforts to protect the water, salmon, and ceremonial sites. Features Julia Butterfly Hill. Damming the Angry River: Chinese environmentalists fight the seemingly inevitable fate of the beautiful Nu River in China. Building One House: Redfeather Development Group helps Native American tribal members build each other's straw bale homes on their reservations: one small grassroots organization making a big difference. Narrated by Robert Redford, music by Pearl Jam.

8:00 NOVA: Arctic Passage: Ice Survivors After the Franklin expedition, more than a half-century would pass before an innovative explorer finally conquered the Northwest Passage. Unsupported by naval might or government funding, a 29-year-old Norwegian, Roald Amundsen, set out with improbably slim resources: six men and a tiny, shallow vessel, the Gjoa, which he presumed could slip through channels that endangered larger ships. Caught by the winter ice, Amundsen did what the earlier Franklin crew had been unable or unwilling to do: he turned to the native Inuit to learn their ancient skills of Arctic survival.

9:00 Receiving DTV Many viewers who watch digital broadcast television using an antenna, whether it's on a digital television or an analog TV with a digital converter box, are having reception issues that will require them to make some changes to their antenna set-ups. This program explains the basics of digital broadcasting and shows viewers what they can do to get the best reception of their local stations. Expert advice is provided by Gary Sgrignoli, Special Engineering Consultant to the Institute of Electrical & Electronics Engineers (IEEE) and Bill Hayes, President of the Broad-cast Technology Society of the IEEE. The program is hosted by Paul Yeager.

Business Sponsor Spotlight

Sonoma County's oldest professional theatre is perhaps its least known. The Independent Eye, now 35 years old, was founded by Conrad Bishop and Elizabeth Fuller in Chicago and toured the US and Canada, logging over 3000 performances in big cities and tiny towns, one week in church basements, the next Off-Broadway.

In 1999 they happily migrated to Sebastopol and put down roots, both on stage and on the airwaves, producing "Hitchhiking Off the Map," heard on KRCB-FM as well as KPFA and other radio stations. They have created many new plays in collaboration with other ensembles, including Sonoma County Repertory, Shotgun Players, and Nevada City's Foothill Theatre.

They call their newest works "theatrical animations," blending live actors, masks, and puppets of all sizes to bring the world of storytelling and myth into the microcosm of the stage. Current news, streaming audio archives, and picture history are at www.independenteye.org.
